Child Labor in New England

by Robert Macieski, Associate Professor of History at the University of New Hampshire at Manchester

Professor Macieski is the former curator and director of the Slater Mill Historic Site in Rhode Island and has extensive experience in nineteenth and twentieth century social history, labor, immigration, race and women's history.

This program is made possible by the University of New Hampshire Speakers Bureau which connects faculty and staff speakers with non-profit organizations to share the research and knowledge of the university with New Hampshire communities.
